CAUSES COLLISION

Monroe's Captain Could Have Averted Disaster by Violating International Rule.

JOHNSON ENDS TESTIMONY

Curious Development Is Brought About in Cross-Examination by Berry's Counsel.

Philadelphia, February 13.—Captain Edward E. Johnson, commander of the steamship Monroe, testified to-day in the trial of Captain Osmyn Berry, of the steamship Nantucket, that if he (Johnson) had violated the international rules of the high seas, he probably could have avoided the collision of the two ships and the consequent loss of forty-one lives. This was brought out in his cross-examination by coursel for Cantal Berry who by counsel for Captain Berry, who is by counsel for Captain Berry, who is charged with negligence.

The international rules provide that in case of fog, a steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog signal of a vessel, the position of which is not ascertained, shall so far as circumstances permit, stop her engines and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

Captain Johnson testified that when he heard the Nantucket's fog whistle off the Monroe's starboard bow, he stopped his engine, and that a minute later when he saw the loom of the Nantucket's light he went ahead full speed to port,

"If I had put my helm hard astarboard and gone ahead at full speed when I heard the fog whistle, L prob-ably would have cleared the Nantucket. when I heard the tog whistle, I probably would have cleared the Nantucket.
That is the only possible thing, I think,
I could have done to avoid the collision, but I would have been violating the Nantucket's light he went ahead full

This testimony brought about a curi-ous situation; that is, Captain John-son's adherence to the rule helped to make the collision possible, while one of the charges against Captain Berry is that his alleged failure to obey the same rule "was the immediate cause same rule "was the immediate cause of the coilision."

Captain Johnson to-day finished his testimony, after having been on the witness stand three days. His cross-examination by counsel for Captain Berry did not bring out anything that differed materially from his testimony on direct examination. on direct examination.
